

Sound English® Level 2

Since the release of Level 1 books we have had a very enthusiastic response from students and teachers. As their confidence increased, many have asked for stories with more text. We have provided these in Level 2, again built around topics that include characters and settings with which students can easily identify.

The twenty books in Level 2 introduce the sounds (phonemes) and their spelling choices (graphemes) not covered in Level 1. Readers can continue to gain confidence by building upon words that were introduced in earlier stories.

Many teachers have commented that the illustrations in the Preliminary and Level 1 books provide an excellent

Suddenly there was a flash of lightning. The glare from the lightning was very bright and the air around them looked weird.

Mary looked at the sky and frowned. "I don't like the look of that lightning," she said. "Big rain's coming."

The dog started to howl. He didn't like storms.

Mary called to Blair, "Drive carefully. This Toyota's had a lot of wear and tear."

Blair was usually a careful driver but when he saw the lightning and the rain clouds he drove fast. He was careless and hit a big, sharp rock in the middle of the road. There was a clunking noise and then the Toyota stopped.

focus for discussions, so the same style has been retained for Level 2. Tutor's notes emphasise discussion topics and teaching points.

Relevant topics

The characters in Level 2 books include teenagers, families, workers and Indigenous people, along with refugees and other new arrivals to Australia.

Outback track

Topics include work-related issues including health and safety, and the need for training. Several stories focus on finding suitable accommodation. Others feature food, music, relationships and learning to drive. Humour, of course, is frequently present.

Chicken, chips or Chinese?

The two bachelors looked at each other.

Chu looked at Charlie and Charlie looked back at Chu.

Mitch just watched them.

He was worried about the furniture because Chu and Charlie began chasing each other round the kitchen.

They ran faster and faster.

Each tried to reach the other.

They were yelling at each other.

"Rachel will be mine. She's MY perfect match!" called Chu.

"No, she's mine. She's MY perfect match," yelled Charlie.

"You can't have her!"
